Debate Club Lacks Cash

$100 Allotment

UB's Debating Club is still hampered by a lack of cash, it was announced today by Club Prexy Henry Southwick. The Club, which defeated Trinity College last night in a debate here, was forced last semester to cancel two important meets when the till ran dry. Invitations to Brooklyn Tech and the University of Virginia were refused by club officials when it became evident that traveling expenses could not be met.

A $100 allotment by Student Council made last Fall to cover the following school year was exhausted by the expenses of away meets soon after the season opened, and has not been expanded. Bridgeport debaters voiced the possibility that UB's debating schedule might be limited next year if it is not possible to meet this semester's commitments.

The affirmative team's victory Monday over Trinity College adds to the club's record of victories, which includes last semester's defeats of Fairfield U. and Wesleyan University.

'Higher Education ??'

"Where is Yalta?" That pertinent question was asked by a staff member of the Bridgeport Sunday Herald. Three cheers for the Herald. The students of the University, who are receiving what the Herald terms "so-called higher education," are thrilled to see that matters of an educational nature are being printed.

But look who is making fun of us and our higher education. The well versed Herald is trying to equate one question on Yalta with the quality of higher education. All we can say is shame on you. A little of that "so-called higher education" would have taught you never to attempt to pass judgment on somethings quality by basing an analysis on one simple question. Even our budding journalists at the University know better than that.

Now, let's get down to brass tacks, if the Herald won't find the subject too sharp. As the Herald brilliantly revealed in its last issue, the Yalta Conference took place in 1945. The age of the students, who answered the "roving reporter's question, range from 17 to 22 years of age; at the time of the Yalta Conference they were between the ages of seven and 12.

We know that your paper is widely read gentlemen, but perhaps in another equally revealing article, you would please inform us of any eight or nine year old child that can digest a news story and recall its contents some 10 years later.

And being a progressive newspaper, you would not believe in the saying, "Don't judge a book by its front cover." That is why, when you questioned 25 students out of a possible 3,000, you believed that a representative sample had been obtained. No doubt, some of your more loyal staff will claim that no mention was made of the sample being representative.

True enough. Then why insinuate about the credibility of our methods here at the University. As far as the staff of the SCRIBE is concerned, the only worthy thing brought to life by your article is the fact that most of the Herald's workers are older than the average student at the University of Bridgeport.

WRUB on Air Income Tax For Brief Time Forum Held

WRUB, the Educational Voice of Bridgeport, scheduled to go on the airwaves last week, has been plagued with transmitter trouble. On for a limited time, the station resumed broadcasting operations Monday afternoon for a brief period.

Station Manager James Muller announced that the list of programs that were published in the SCRIBE last week would be broadcast as scheduled. Any changes will be published immediately.

Observations made during the testing of the station revealed that all the dormitories would be able to receive the station with no difficulty, as well as off-campus housing sites located in the vicinity of campus grounds.

Convocation for 'Getting a Job'

A convocation on the subject of getting and keeping a job and impressions and appearances while working was held last Tuesday at 11 A. M. in T-101 in conjunction with the Weylister Secretarial School.

The second part of this topic will be given next Tuesday at 10 A. M. in T-101. Dr. Marie Jaeger, Dean of the Weylister School will speak.

An income tax forum, designed to acquaint individual tax payers with changes made in the 1954 internal revenue code, was presented at the Little Theatre on Tuesday at 8 P. M.

Sponsored by the National Association of Cost Accountants in cooperation with the University, the program was open to the public.

Panelists included: Harry C. Koehler, moderator, C. P. A., Allen, Cassidy & Co.; Francis X. Di Leo, assistant professor of accounting, Ralph L. Cohen, C. P. A., Milton H. Freidberg & Co.; David L. Engleson, C. P. A., Cohen & Engleson; Austin G. Chapman, Jr. assistant professor of accounting.

Areas covered during the discussion included medical deductions, retirement income, penalties, personal exemptions, child care, surviving widow benefits, exclusion from income tax, and wages received during periods of sickness or injury, etc.

Program committee members included: Carl R. Johnson, Frank S. Wright, Victor E. Muniec and Messers. DiLeo, Koehler and Engleson.

Harold Stassen Will Speak with Students

Harold Stassen, head of the Foreign Operations Administration, will be the guest speaker at the Jacoby Lecture to be held Monday evening at the Klein Memorial Auditorium.

Where's Yalta? Stumps Studes

Yalta—the name has been in the news since 1945. It took on added significance this week when the State Dept. published the Yalta papers. What, and where is Yalta?

The Herald asked a total of 25 students at the University, boys and girls having so-called "higher education."

None of the students knew what it was. Few know anything about the conference that took place there in February, 1945. Only one was able to give the approximate location.

Here is the Answer

As for the men, they knew it was a place, knew vaguely about the Big Three conference, were aware of the furor concerning the possible "sell-out". Only three, however, knew where it was.

Not a single student could have described it for what it is: A port and resort city on the Eastern side of the tip of the Crimean Peninsula, now under the Russian government. Crimea juts into the Black Sea.

Freshman Richard Kahn scratched his head but ventured bravely, "Yalta is in Europe, I think".

Another freshman, Ed Chin, murmured, "Yalta—that sounds familiar... It's near Madagascar, isn't it?"

Some thought it was in Turkey (not too far off), some said it was on the Baltic, others put it in the Baltics, quit a few "knew" it started with B and then switched back and forth between Baltic and Balkan without seeming to know where either was.

Marge Rupp, a senior, was sure she "had seen it on a map somewhere in the paper's city" but she did not know quite why it might have been in the news.

When asked the usual question, "Where is Yalta?", Albert Russo, senior, paused briefly, then said, "Who?" Finally he saw the light, "Oh, you mean that business that's in the news now?" Another pause, "I'm probably sticking my neck out, but it's in the Caribbean, isn't it?"

Two sophomores were dead certain it was in India. "You're probably confusing it with Ceylon", said a friend in the know. "Of Course not", was the answer, "do Ceylon and Yalta sound the same?"

Incidentally, some of these students were history majors, but for obvious reasons their names are not disclosed.

Mr. Stassen, who was appointed by Pres. Eisenhower to a newly created Cabinet post to aid him on the problem of disarmament, will arrive in Bridgeport Monday afternoon. Stassen will be met at the airport by members of the Student Council and faculty.

During the afternoon, Stassen will be the guest of the University at an informal session in Alumni Hall, at which time students may ask questions of him. These questions may be submitted by any student, through a member of Student Council, before or during the session.

At 8:30 P. M., Stassen will formally address the students and the public at the Klein, on the subject of "Brotherhood and Partnership."

Students are reminded that convocation credit will be given at both the evening and afternoon lectures, with refreshments being served at Alumni Hall immediately following the afternoon discussion.

Fashion Majors Visit New York

Fashion Merchandising students received actual, practical experience recently when they were taken to the merchandise market in New York. Inspecting products for sale, the fashion majors purchased the goods they had ordered for University students and put on a fashion show on the campus.

Part of the experience gained by the girls is attributed to the close cooperation between the University and various manufacturers, who take the girls through their plants, showing them how the merchandise is designed and made, and describing the outstanding selling points.

Reading Matter Donated to UB

A group of citizens interested in the welfare of the University have purchased a newspaper and magazine rack for the lounge in Alumni Hall. They have also subscribed to numerous dailies and periodicals for the project.

Among the contributors are: Dr. Sydney Beck, Fred B. Carstenson, Judge Irwin M. Friedman, Atty. Milton Hausman, Rudolph Knablein, Sylvanus Locke, Harold C. Locke, G. Webster Miller, Dr. Harold Ribner, Dr. Harold Lockhart, Edward McCarthy, Atty. Gustave Rosen, Samuel Rosoff, Atty. Robert Testo, Joseph Waxgizer, D. P. Weisberg, Atty. Gregory Willis and Atty. Vincent M. Zanella, Jr.

Pres. James H. Halsey praised the group for their magnanimous gesture.

Thanks, Prof. Wechter

Even as you are reading this editorial, the University's own radio station is beaming out words and music to all parts of the campus and the surrounding community.

Our hats were doffed to all the diligent workers who helped the station become a reality. To Herbert Burbank and Edward Shumofsky, go our sincerest thanks, for it was their thought, their brain child that has become a reality.

Yes, there are many more, such as James Muller, Wes Hobby, Howard Shapiro, Marion Sussman and Richard Handler, who toiled many hours in the hope that idea would take hold and become a physical entity.

But as long as congratulations are being given out, let's take time out to honor a person who has not been in the spotlight, a person who has put aside work of his own, to actually construct the equipment necessary for broadcasting operations.

Prof. Harry Wechter not only did the construction work for the station, but financed the proposition when required. Donating time and service, Prof. Wechter has never been too busy to help out in whatever task that was required of him.

So, Prof. Wechter, we of the SCRIBE would like to thank you on behalf of every UB student for the terrific job that you turned out.

HE'S A LOUSY HITTER, BUT THE UMPIRES ARE AFRAID TO CALL A STRIKE ON HIM

YALTA

ies (who knew where it was) was "shocked at the lack of knowledge". He insisted that most of the students would have known.

But he admitted that he has sampled some ignorance, too. "Last year", he related, "I asked in a test, Where is Moscow? One answer was: In the Yukon area". (Yukon is in Alaska).

Hobby's Lobby

By Wes Hobby

I had the pleasure of spending a good portion of last weekend in the city of the Cabots and the Lodges. It was my job, and a pleasant one at that, to cover a portion of the 1955 New England High School basketball tourney in the Boston Garden. This is a highlight in the lives of those of us who cover high school sports in New England. Every year coaches and athletic directors from all over the nation trek to "Bean-Town" to watch the best in New England fight it out for the coveted title of New England Champion. Adolph Rupp, of Kentucky, was up there a few years ago scouting the great Ronny Perry, who eventually did his ball playing with Togo Palazzi at Holy Cross.

This may be a strange thing to have in my column. After all we have sports columns covering sporting events. Well, I have a couple of reasons for bringing this subject up.

First and foremost I should like to point out that Connecticut dominates this tourney. The Nutmeg state has captured 20 out of 29 Annual New England titles. We have won the last six straight. This, when you consider that we play against none other than the State Champions of the other five northeastern states, is a good record. A great record.

Despite the fact that they are on the losing side of the ledger (Vermont and New Hampshire have never won one) the upstate teams make Connecticut look sick with their school spirit and team support. Little Manchester Central of Manchester, New Hampshire, had two to three times the number of rooters at the game than their victorious opposition, Roger Ludlowe had. They had a sixty-odd piece band, cheerleaders, banners, pom poms and pennants in the garden. Their cheers in defeat drowned out the cheers of powerful Ludlowe's supporters.

Now for the blast! Roger Ludlowe has ten times the spirit that we find here at UB. Where do we hid it? Do we have any?

Let's get with it, UB. Win, lose or draw they are our boys. . . I might even murder the English language and say. . . "they are us." To paraphrase the old adage "Our team, win or lose . . . our team!"

Note to the men in charge of giving out athletic scholarships: Check up on these men. Gene Davins, brother of "Jumpin' Jimmy," of Hillhouse; Dave Coombs of Roger Ludlowe; his team mates Harry Hyra, Dave Graham and Lee Lindeman.

Other boys I'd love to see in Purple and White are Kilty and Allard of Somerville and Dickson of Manchester Central.

Let's all get on the ball. Let's work to build a bigger, better and ever increasingly powerful UB.

By Bill Wright

The Beachcomber Ball this Friday night is another event planned by the Student Spirit Committee to fill another breach in the UB social calendar. The motif for the costume dance will be in the shipwreck vein. Dancing will begin at nine and last until one, with a prize being given at midnight for the best costume. No skin-drivers will be admitted.

Now it can be told. . . Merle Bruskin and his Gloria have disclosed that they made wedding vows late last year. This sort of practice is becoming a fad with collegians of late.

Audrey Saibe and Maxine Rome are making final plans and reservations for their trip to Europe this summer. Other Wistarian residents are also contemplating the trip, as they do every spring.

Former Lindenite, Carol Brill, was given a surprise shower by her friends in Laurelton, N. Y. last weekend. Carol will become the bride of alumnus, Marv Girard, in a ceremony June 12.

THINGS-THAT NEED FIXIN' DEPT.: It seems that the maintenance department could do something about the walkways leading to Bishop Hall. The planks that were laid by the construction crew were two inches under water last Monday. And it was a wet track here on UB's campus.

Cathy Bonaminio, Stratford Hall nursing student and localite Henry Holt, on the staff at the Raybestos Co., have joined the ranks of those "going steady".

It's Dorm Party time again. And Wistaria Hall plans for a very successful one this Saturday Night. Cyma Altman is party chairman and she'll be sure to save a chair for Shelly. Park Hall is also scheduling activities in their dorm. Hermanita Anderson is in charge of the Open House at Park Hall this Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5.

The girls in Milford Hall wish they could adopt Debbie Firisin, when Lois Firisin brought her visiting to Milford last Sunday afternoon.

It would be alright, except that no one would take on the job of washing the diapers.

Mickey Tietlebaum, pretty Park Hall Freshie, made a pin-pact with Irv Waldman, med-student from Buffalo College, N. Y. Mickey's dorm mate Lynn Schepps and Sam Bernstein, UB court-man, are going steady.

Yale Law School Senior, Harry Newman and Darleen Kriv have made appointments at the altar for June at Chicago, Ill. Darleen was probably one of the girls who came to UB because it was so close to Yale.

Barbara Trickey, Southport Dorm proctor, has left her position, and Betty Rubley, who was assistant counselor will be taking over. Miss Trickey was the youngest proctor in UB history.

WRUB ran into unforeseen technical difficulties last week, and were unable to go on the air. However, the programs hit the airwaves last Monday evening and will keep on furnishing on-campus entertainment. A bouquet of orchids to WRUB's hard working crew.

Home on leave for ten days, Dave Moffitt made the most out of every hour of the day. He is transferring to Fort Bliss, Texas for public relations training.

Spring brought with it a full day of rain for New England, but better days are coming. To quote the immortal words of Clem Kadiddlehopper, "Spring is here; the grass has riz; I wonder where the flowers is".

Varsity Baseball Squad Suffers Loss of Key Men

The varsity baseball team is rounding into shape. Field practice has been scheduled for every afternoon, weather permitting. During inclement weather blackboard drills are held in the locker room of Bishop Hall.

The team looks good during practice with Harold Trishman and Captain Jimmy Davins very impressive. Davins was voted the Most Valuable Player in the Canadian Amateur League, which is sponsored by the NACC, last summer, and his experience at shortstop should help the team out a great deal.

The varsity squad has been hit hard by the loss of key players. Dick Ganesello, who is head coach of the freshman team, has been lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates. Dick signed a contract with the National League team and became ineligible to play college ball. He was the leading hitter for the team last year and his absence will be felt. Ronnie Krause is now in Florida training with the Milwaukee Braves. In addition to the loss of two or three other veterans, the team has a more difficult schedule to meet this year.

Impressive Season

In the face of last year's record, nine wins and four losses, the inexperience is bound to show at the end of the season. Last year's record of nine wins in one season was more than all previous wins of all teams since the formation of a varsity baseball team here at UB.

Another drawback is the new law which forbids freshmen playing on varsity teams. The senior squad will have to depend on the veterans of last season and new players who are trying out with the team for the first time.

Coach and veteran players agree that it will be a tough season. The basic strategy will be to rebuild the varsity squad and develop experience in the members of the freshman team to fill in the gaps as they appear in the senior squad. The roster now has 20 to 21 players. The positions are divided as follows: two catchers, six pitchers, five outfielders and seven infielders. Newcomers, who have nailed down starting positions are: Hal Trishman, catcher; Lorin Beresnyak, 1b; Joseph Candela, lf; and Roland Davin, 3b.

Starting Line-up

The starting lineup to take the field against St. John's University for the season's opener will be: Hal Trishman, catcher; Beresnyak, 1b; Peters, 2b; J. Davins, ss; R. Davin, 3b; Chacho, rf; J. Esposito, cf; and Candela, lf. The starting pitcher will be either Pierre Vaporis or Dick Lugg. This will be an away game on April 6. The home stand begins April 13 against our old rivals, New Haven State Teachers College.

Ellis to Enter A. A. U. Meet

Dick Ellis, member of the 1954-55 swimming team, will enter the Connecticut State A. A. U. swimming championship meet on Saturday, March 26. The meet will be held at Yale University. Ellis intends to participate in three events; the 50 yard free-style, the 100 yard free-style; and the 200 yard relay.

He will be swimming against 200 participants all striving for the finals. His present time is 24.9 for the 50 yard free-style. Ellis is also entered in the Bridgeport City Championship meet which will take place Sunday. He also has high hopes for the National A. A. U. Championship on April 1 and 2.

Hubert Vines, veteran linkster, was elected Captain of the 1955 golf team. Vines, a senior, has been a consistent player for the Purple Knights for the last three years.

Coach Al Sherman has great expectations for the squad, because of numerous returning veterans and a fine aggregation of promising newcomers.

At a recent sports banquet, winter athletes were honored for their participation in basketball, fencing and swimming.

Intramural softball competition will soon begin, with numerous teams already beginning practice sessions.

TS is having a "Casino Party" to welcome their new brothers. Bill Bartlett, Bill Saunders and Frank Sura at Bob Neuberger's house. The fellows will come in gambler's costumes and the gals as dance hall girls.

POC will formally initiate their new brothers this Saturday night at Hubie Vines house. A drag party will follow the formalities, and a good time is expected by all.

Chi Sigma Delta is having a "coke party" tonight for the new pledges. We can expect to see about 10 girls running about the campus next week in red skirts and white turtle-neck sweaters, topped with their beanies. A "Get Acquainted Tea" with POC will be held in the near future.

SLX welcomed their new brothers at their last meeting. The new brothers are: Don Lurrie, Hank Frunhoffer, Ron Breslow, Herbie Berg and Larry Levoy. Plans for the "April Rendezvous" are under way.

DEB is recuperating from their big blast last Saturday night. A stag party is in the makings.

Al Cohen and Jay Ehrensall are co-pledge masters for the coming pledge class. Ronnie Krause left for spring training last week and feted the boys at his house. SPA is planning a pledge beer party soon.

SOS had a big blast last Sunday night at the Barnum for the new brothers. They are: Al Stein, Dave DeTuccio, Shelly Glazo, Joel Rosenfeld, and Bob Finegold.

Fashion Demands Fancy Pants

What with spring only three days old many of us are already figuring out what change of season clothing will be bringing up with us after our Easter vacation. For one, our print dress is a must, either straight skirted and of solid color, or full skirted and of a big splashy design. Another is our Easter suit which will be just grand for those Sunday afternoon dates. Long, short or waist length jackets, straight or slightly flared skirts, the suit is vital in Milady's wardrobe.

Of course our winter cottons can be worn now, those dark colors, not light but not heavy materials. And along with these we add a few of our summer cotton dresses, skirts, shorts and of course one bathing suit for those warm May weekends.

We must not forget our fancy pants and striped tee shirts for those fraternity and sorority picnics, along with our burmudas, light weight slacks and a full wardrobe of spring and a few summer blouses.
